

Look at the list of the four seasons to the right. Write the correct season above the months when each season happens in the U.S. Then fill in the blanks below with the correct letters to spell the different activities you can do in each season.

Seasons: Fall, Summer, Spring, Winter

Winter											Winter
January	February	March	April	May	June	July	August	September	October	November	December
go s k i i n g	start _ a _ d _ _ ing			go s _ i _ mi _ g	start stu _ _ _ _ g
go _ l _ dd _ ng	go _ _ mp _ _ g			play _ as _ _ a _ l	play _ _ _ _ ball

Next, watch the video or listen to the audio for LLE Episode 22 again and try to find the sentences below in the dialogue. Listen or watch one more time and draw a line over each sentence. Make each line curve up and down to show how intonations in each sentence sound.

- 1) Are you going on vacation this summer?
- 2) First, we're going to introduce the subject. Then we can show pictures and video.
- 3) When you go camping, you sleep, cook and play outdoors!

Next, talk to a friend about the plans you both have for the next four seasons. Write down both your plans and their plans.

Your plans for the next four seasons:	Your friend's plans for the next four seasons:

Now listen to two other friends talk about their plans for next year. Practice your pronunciation by shadowing them.

Are you going to go skiing next winter?

No. I am going to go sledding.

...going to go sledding

Answers for above:

1) Are you going on vacation this summer?

2) First, we're going to introduce the subject. Then we can show pictures and video.

3) When you go camping, you sleep, cook and play outdoors!

Winter	Fall	Summer	Spring	Winter
January	February	March	April	May
June	July	August	September	October
November	December	start studying	start gardening	go sledding
play football	play baseball	go swimming	go camping	start studying